

Practise using the phrase "want someone to do something" as positive, negative sentence and question i When used in a positive statement form the sentence in this way: Person + want + object pronoun (me, you, him, her, us, them) + to infinitive.

In a negative sentence use it in this way: Person + don't/doesn't/didn't + want + object pronoun + to infinitive.

In a question: Do/Does/Did + person + want + object pronoun + to infinitive.

i Positive sentence example: I want him to explain the exercise.

Negative sentence example: He doesn't want me to go the party.

Question example: Did your Mum want you to phone her?

?

She wants _____ to call her.

- ☐ he
- ☐ him
- ☐ to

?

Does Tina want them _____?

- ☐ to come
- ☐ coming
- ☐ come

?

Lisa! Mum wants _____ to listen to her!

- ☐ she
- ☐ he
- ☐ you

?

Your room is a mess! Dad wants you _____ up your room!

- ☐ tidy
- ☐ to tidy

?

They want _____ to tell them about our trip to London.

- ☐ us
- ☐ our
- ☐ we

?

Does Lucy want _____ to help with the dishes?

(Lucy wants her sister to help).

?

Barbara doesn't want _____ to watch TV until late.

(Barbara doesn't want me and you to watch TV).

?

Kelly wants _____ to tell her about yesterday.

- ☐ him
- ☐ he
- ☐ his

?

My aunt wants me _____ my English skills.

- ☐ improve
- ☐ improving
- ☐ to improve

?

We don't want her _____ her keys, so we attached it to her bag.

- ☐ to forgot
- ☐ forget
- ☐ to forget

?

Do you want _____ to do the shopping for you today, I am happy to!

- ☐ her
- ☐ me
- ☐ I

?

Peter and James want _____ to attend their comedy show tomorrow.

Insert the right pronoun for "I" into the gap.

?

His teacher wants _____ to sit the exam on Tuesday.

His teacher wants Tom to sit the exam.

