

Practise using the modal verb "should"!

i We use "should" to give advice, recommendations or talk about expectations and obligations we have.

For example: You should close your window, it is going to rain. -> recommendation

Paul should practise the new words for tomorrow's vocabulary test. -> advice

I should get home at 7pm. -> expectation

Should is followed by the infinitive like all modal verbs.

To negate a sentence use "should not" or shorten this to "shouldn't".

For example: He shouldn't come late tomorrow, we start on time!

?

I _____ go home now, it is late.

- should not
- shouldn't
- should

?

I think you _____ buy that, it is too expensive!

- should
- shouldn't

?

_____ you do your homework now? Why are you playing outside?

- Shouldn't
- Should

?

They _____ really buy a new car, their car is very old.

- should
- should not

?

I think you _____ see a doctor, you look very ill.

- should
- should not
- shouldn't

?

_____ it be icy tomorrow, I won't be able to come.

- Shouldn't
- Should
- Should not

?

You _____ ring your parents, they might worry otherwise.

- should
 should not

?

You _____ have eaten all the chocolates! I wanted some, too!

- should shouldn't

?

You _____ watch this film, it's amazing!

- should shouldn't

?

She _____ study so much! She looks stressed and pale.

- shouldn't
 should

?

You _____ always be honest and respectful of others.

- should not should

?

He _____ have to look after his little sister everyday. It is too much for him.

- should
 should not

?

We _____ ask Tom about it. He knows a lot about the topic.

- shouldn't
 should

?

Bella _____ be home later than 9pm. She caught the earlier bus.

- should shouldn't